

Christine Taylor Short Bio for Speaking Engagements

Christine Taylor is a nationally recognized leader in providing outdoor hospitality legal counsel and defense to owners and operators of campgrounds, RV parks and glamping facilities. She has years of first-hand experience working in the outdoor hospitality industry, having grown up operating family-owned campgrounds where she handled all aspects of operations including guest services, facilities, recreation, and marketing.

In addition to her legal practice, she is a nationally regarded columnist on matters of importance to outdoor hospitality operators and regularly speaks on best practices at various outdoor hospitality conferences. Christine is a partner in the Albany, New York office of Goldberg Segalla, a national civil litigation counsel and defense law firm with a focus in the Retail and Hospitality industries. Contact information: ctaylor@goldbergsegalla.com

Goldberg Segalla Outdoor Hospitality highlights – 250 words max.

Goldberg Segalla is a national civil litigation law firm with extensive experience representing owners, operators, franchisors and franchisees of outdoor hospitality operations, hotels and resorts of all sizes, as well as indoor and outdoor sports and entertainment facilities.

Our team features a recognized leader in the outdoor hospitality industry – an attorney who represents self-insured and insured investors, owners and operators of campgrounds, RV parks and glamping facilities in all areas of business law, advocacy, and defense. Goldberg Segalla Partner Christine Taylor has years of first-hand experience working in the outdoor hospitality industry, having grown up operating family-owned campgrounds where she handled all aspects of operations including guest services, facilities, recreation, and marketing. In addition to her legal practice, she is a nationally regarded columnist on matters of importance to outdoor hospitality operators and regularly speaks at various outdoor hospitality conferences.

Christine is joined by more than 450+ trial-tested lawyers who have demonstrated success defending clients against claims including alleged failure to provide reasonable safety or security measures, premises liability and personal injury, employment issues, real estate and title disputes, and more.

Goldberg Segalla attorneys are familiar with the laws, courtrooms, and jury pools throughout the firm's national footprint. At the same time, they offer streamlined communications, greater efficiency and personalized client service. You'll collaborate with legal strategists who appreciate your goals and issues while offering you access to attorneys across the country with expertise in a specific area of law your business may require.

Contact information: ctaylor@goldbergsegalla.com